Five interdisciplinary art and media events will be held at five sites in five zones, offering five journeys, five narratives, five links, five maps and five marks. These installations will happen on the five Saturdays during the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. All events start at 5:00 pm and last five hours.

"5: the 5 Olympic Rings, the 5 colours (red, yellow, black, green, blue), the 5 continents, the 5 senses (sight, sound, touch, smell, taste), the 5 elements (fire, earth, air, water + metal), the 5 races (brown, black, white, red + yellow). Mapping + Marking is a context to take viewers/participants on extraordinary journeys in virtual space, in real, invented and imagined places in Vancouver."

Paul Wong

Paul Wong's work has been shown in exhibitions and festivals around the world, including at the Museum of Modern Art, New York and a solo exhibition at the National Gallery of Canada. Wong was instrumental in the founding of two artist-run centres in Vancouver: Satellite Video Exchange (Video In) in 1973 and On Edge in 1985 (www.onedge.tv). He received the Bell Canada Award in Video Art in 1992 and the CHUM-NFB Expression Award, which celebrates diversity in the arts, in 2003.
