Subject: Weather response

Good afternoon Mayor and Council,

Rain showers that were forecast as a possibility for this afternoon have materialized as accumulating snow in sections of the City.

We understand that the snow will abate in a few hours. In the interim, our Streets crews have been applying brine extensively over the past few days to prevent snow from accumulating on roadways. Additionally, salting trucks are being readied and deployed as precautionary measures.

Engineering staff are working hard to stay on top of this unexpected circumstance. If you have any questions or concerns at this point, please let me or Lon know.

Best,
Paul
