Hello Council,

As you know, the Day of Action Against Racism is coming up tomorrow. Mayor and Council is already aware of the plans, but the team thought to put forward some ideas for how you might engage.

Staff ask that you consider the following possible actions:

- Share the digital assets via social media and online via your networks once the news release is sent (the link to the assets will be embedded in the news release and we expect it to be sent this morning)
- Share the link to the Proclamation in English, Chinese, Punjabi, Tagalog, Vietnamese and Korean through your networks
- Record your own anti-racism messages and use the materials you receive from the Comms team as a guide
- The LG will also be posting an anti-racism pledge for all British Columbians on their website, which we will promote via our social media channels. Staff ask that M&C take the pledge and help encourage others to do so ☐ individuals, orgs, businesses, etc.
- Tomorrow, a COV anti-racism video will be launched and we ask you to share it.

Thanks,

Sadhu

And to be clear I didn't mean role as in appearing in a video - I meant role as in our job to promote this. Sarah's correct in that there is pretty strong interest from all of council on this and we are all pretty compelled to act against racism in our City. CLPF

I think all of Council would have a strong interest in this. However I read your email being that the City had already made its video plan no?

Hi

I wasn't aware you had an interest in a role. I'll check with staff.

Is there an update on implementation of this campaign yet and our respective roles as council?

Good Evening Mayor and Council,
In partnership with the Province, VPD and the Lieutenant Governor's Office, the City is proclaiming Friday, May 29 'Day of Action Against Racism'. The day is intended to address the upsetting increase in racism we have recently seen in our city and encourage people to join us in sharing the message that racism is not tolerated in Vancouver. We will be issuing a news release on Wednesday outlining the campaign which includes videos by ourselves, the Premier and the Lieutenant Governor, downloadable posters and social media resources that we will encourage residents to share, and a proclamation by the Mayor.
Best
Sadhu
