Subject: Snow Again

Greetings Mayor and Council-

The Engineering DOC is open again this afternoon. We are expecting heavier precipitation that will be arriving between 1-2pm this afternoon. It is expected to start as snow with accumulations of 5-10cm. The forecast indicates snow will continue through the evening hours with freezing rain showers before transitioning to rain. Rain is forecast for the second half of this evening, which will likely cause flooding and will require significant efforts to manage.

I will keep you posted throughout the afternoon as our staff address the changing conditions.

Best

Sadhu
