Subject: Extreme Weather Update

Greetings Mayor and Council-

Given that we are expecting to get some extreme weather over the next couple days, I thought I'd send a quick note of the efforts underway to deal with it. We're expecting that:

- Rain will increase this afternoon with occasionally heavy rain overnight. Winds will ramp up the second half of the night and with the amount of leaves and rain, some more significant than usual damage can be expected given the wind speeds.
- Rain becomes very heavy tomorrow morning then ends midday. Some localized urban flooding may develop due to clogged drains. Winds will be on the decrease tomorrow.

Projected Forecast: Monday October 16/17

Noon – 7pm Response Level: 1

Rainfall: 5-10 mm

Wind: 15-30 (kph) ESE

7pm – 7am (tomorrow morning) Response Level: 3

Rainfall: 15-20mm

Wind: 40-60 (kph) SSE
