Subject: Upcoming NR - VANquish Collisions Hackathon

Greetings Mayor and Council,

The City is inviting Vancouver AP developers, designers, data scientists and strategists to take part in VANquish Collisions Hackathon, a three-day collaborative workshop where participants will work in teams to develop a data-based solution that will help reach the City's goal of zero transportation-related fatalities. The Hackathon will run from September 7-9 at the Wayne & William White Engineering Design Centre, UBC. This event is part of a Canada-wide collaboration with other municipalities, with similar transportation safety themed hackathons being hosted by the City of Toronto and City of Calgary. For more information visit vancouver.ca/vanquish-collisions. The news release is forthcoming.

Best,
Sadhu
