New year-long artist residency, OCCUPYING CHINATOWN/身在唐人街 launches April 22

Past Meets Present at the Dr. Sun Yat-sen Classical Chinese Garden with Artist Paul Wong

On April 22, artist Paul Wong will launch a year-long residency, 身在唐人街/Occupying Chinatown, at the Dr. Sun Yat-sen Classical Chinese Garden to coincide with the City of Vancouver's formal apology for the historical discrimination against Chinese residents in Vancouver. Wong will be creating a series of multidisciplinary artworks based on 700 letters in Chinese sent by 90 writers to his mother Suk-Fong Wong from 1946 to 2016. The residency will include exhibitions, screenings, collaborations with other artists, workshops, performances, events, a website and a book.

The first featured work will be the screening of Wong's video, Ordinary Shadows, Chinese Shade (1988, 89 minutes, colour, in Chinese with English Subtitles) from April 14th - June 11th, 2018. Located in the Scholar's Study within the Garden and looped for continuous play, this film is Wong's exploration of his second-generation Chinese-Canadian perspective on the Chinese here in the new world, Canada, and in the motherland, China.

The video will be open to the public for free viewing during Chinatown Culture Day on April 22. Paul Wong will be available to discuss the concepts behind Occupying Chinatown at the Occupying Chinatown Studio at BC Artscape - 268 Keefer Street, Suite 427 from 3:30 pm to 5 pm.

Later this spring Wong will create a new neon work called 鹹水埠溫哥華/HAAM SUI FOW WUN GOH WAH. The neon sign will be mounted on the Garden's exterior southern wall, above the Moon Gate. This will demarcate and acknowledge Chinatown's Toisanese pioneers. In Cantonese, the sign reads as Saltwater City (鹹水埠/Haam Sui Fow) and Vancouver (溫哥華/Wun Goh Wah).

Occupying Chinatown is one of six new public art projects commissioned by the City of Vancouver through an invitation to artists to propose artworks for the city. A description of all six initiatives can be found at Artist-Initiated Commissions

Occupying Chinatown is commissioned by the City of Vancouver Public Art Program in partnership with the Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden. Paul Wong also wishes to thank the BC Arts Council for additional support.

News release

City Council to convene special meeting in Chinatown to deliver official apology for historical discrimination against Chinese people

On Sunday, April 22 Vancouver City Council will convene a Special Council meeting in Chinatown where Mayor Gregor Robertson will deliver a formal apology for past discrimination against residents of Chinese descent. The apology will acknowledge the wrongdoings of past legislation, regulations and policies of previous Vancouver City Councils.

The formal apology will be part of a larger Chinatown Culture Days event, which will take place between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. throughout Chinatown. The apology will take place at 2 p.m. at the Chinese Cultural Centre.

QUOTE FROM MAYOR

The apology will be read in both English and Chinese. The English version will be read by Mayor Robertson, and the Chinese version by former City Councillors Bill Yee and Maggie Ip. There will also be three community speakers representing voices from the past, present and future; a war veteran who grew up in Vancouver; the President of the Chinese Benevolent Association which has been established for over a century to help Vancouver's Chinese population; and a young Vancouverite of Chinese descent speaking to her vision for a vibrant Chinese community.

Throughout the day on April 22, Chinatown will be transformed into a Chinese Culture Day event. The entire Vancouver community is invited to enjoy, learn and experience Chinese culture through a variety of activities including: historical walking tours, tai chi demonstrations, street food stalls, free admission to the Dr. Sun Yet Sen Garden and Chinese museum, and much more.

Between 2016 and 2017, the City established an Advisory Group of Chinese and non-Chinese experts and community leaders to help guide the development of a formal apology, which was approved by Council in November 2017. The Advisory Group is comprised of retired judges, former City Councillors, community elders and advocates, historians, veterans and their descendants, who are active volunteers that share an interest in working with the City to move forward together. Professor Henry Yu, member of the Advisory, commented: " This apology is not about looking backwards, but about learning about the past to create a better future together for everybody."

The formal apology for past discrimination reaffirms Vancouver as a City of Reconciliation in which diverse communities can share and learn from the past, collectively address current challenges and plan for a better future for all.

Media availability: Baldwin Wong, Social Planner, will be available for interviews at 1:30 p.m. in English and Chinese at City Hall, Main Floor Town Hall

Subject: Thank You Gregor!

Hello Your Worship

The apology that you gave to the Chinese community today, on behalf of the City of Vancouver has a very special significance for me.

My maternal grandmother was born in Vancouver in 1897. Both my father and mother were born in Vancouver in the 1920's. My father volunteered and served in the Canadian Army during World War II even though he wasn't recognized as a voting citizen and couldn't swim in public pools. My mother was one of, if not the first, Asian women to graduate from UBC with a Bachelor of Applied Science in Nursing in 1947. After graduating, she was hired by the City of Vancouver and was a community health nurse for over 35 years. She worked at various schools throughout the city but always had the Downtown Eastside as her "beat".

The discrimination my parents faced from both their government and the various communities they navigated through, was just a fact of life. They were rejected by both the White society and by the immigrant Chinese because they were born here and had to learn Cantonese as young children. The immigrant Chinese referred to them as Siwashy - a derogatory reference to aboriginals.

With all the suffering throughout their lives because of their ethnicity, I know how especially proud they would be to know that their grandson and son had served on the Vancouver Police Board with you. So thank you for taking this huge step in helping heal generations of systemic discrimination and isolation. History will be kind to you Gregor for your service to the city and its citizens. Today is another example of how principled politicians should act.

I wish you nothing but the best and hope you know that you have made a difference for generations to come.

Thanks,
Glenn

Subject: Two quick questions

Hi both,

I have two quick questions for you:

1. We notoriously get media requests about the cost of clean up after big public events – does your team handle all the clean up after this event and/or do City crews come in and clean as well?
2. We are juggling a small piece of media equipment and wondering if someone can drop it off to the cultural centre around 8/9 am on Sunday morning, will your team be there by then? It's just a mic stand for the media scrum.

Thanks,
Lauren

Subject: Volunteer Responsibilities

Attachments: 20180414124019329_0001.pdf

Hi all,

The volunteer orientation went well today. We have a lot of young keen students involved for this event. One thing my colleagues notice when they were doing the sign up was that some volunteers asked us to confirm for safety requirements (I am attaching an example of that). I know that the CoV staff team are doing some massively good job in cleaning the areas and continue to ensure the cleanliness of the area before the event.

I know that one of the possible tasks for volunteers is waste management. However, I am still slightly uneasy about assigning student volunteers specifically to pickup garbage on that day. For one, I feel that waste management should be a dedicated responsibility for people with the appropriate gears, equipment and training.

I know that Renita and the team will be confirming responsibility for individual volunteers very soon. I hope to get your thoughts on this.

Best Regards,
Vincent

Vincent, Kwan, Executive Director
Dr. Sun Yat Sen Garden

Dear Vincent:

Thank you for agreeing to act as the overall coordinator bringing together community groups & volunteers to assist with the Apology event and the Chinatown Cultural Day. At our last meeting all community groups agreed that we only have a very short time frame to put together a big event with many program activities, we will need to bring on an experienced production company to assist, especially with logistics and hardware.

If you can coordinate the community participation and contributions I will talk to City Manager to request a budget for this event. Sun Yat Sen Garden has lots of experience delivering large scale event, it will be great if you can move forward fast in identifying a production company and bring them on board. Once I can confirm a budget for the event the City will contribute towards financial resources to the SYS Garden for the event expenses. We can review and discuss an appropriate budget together.

I really appreciate you stepping up to assist in hosting this significant day.

Sincerely,

Wendy Au

Hi all,

I'm sharing the updated IB and event plan for this weekend's HDC event. I've already touched base with Naveen and Claudia regarding the speakers participating in the media scrum. Given the limited space and need for crowd control, the media scrum will take place in an adjacent room at the conclusion of the Council Meeting.

Kevin, do we want a quote in the NR? Otherwise it will go out as an IB. Probably plenty of opportunity for media to quote and clip the Mayor at the event.

Thanks,

Alexa

City Council apologizes to Chinese Community for past discrimination

More than 500 people attend special council meeting for formal apology

Today, Vancouver City Council delivered a formal apology for historical discrimination of Chinese residents in Vancouver to an audience of more than 500 people at the Chinese Cultural Centre, and hundreds more viewing on screens along Keefer St. The apology publically acknowledged past legislation, regulations and policies of previous Vancouver City Councils that discriminated against residents of Chinese descent, along with clear references to key past events and actions of discrimination.

Mayor Gregor Robertson read the apology in English, and former Vancouver City Councillors Maggie Ip and Bill Yee read the apology in Cantonese and Sze Yup dialect. Three community members; war veteran George Ing, Chinese Benevolent Association Chair, Hilbert Yiu, and youth speaker Melody Choi, also provided remarks about the importance of the apology to their community.

The formal apology was part of a larger Chinatown Cultural Day event which saw hundreds of Vancouverites enjoying Chinese culture through a variety of activities including: historical walking tours, tai chi demonstrations, calligraphy demonstrations, traditional lion dance lessons, street food stalls, free admission to the Dr. Sun Yet Sen Garden and Chinese Cultural Centre museum, and much more.

The formal apology and Chinatown Cultural Day event were guided by an Advisory Group of Chinese and non-Chinese experts and community leaders. The Advisory Group is comprised of retired judges, former City Councillors, community elders and advocates, historians, veterans and their descendants, who are active volunteers that share an interest in working with the City to move forward together.

The formal apology for past discrimination reaffirms Vancouver as a City of Reconciliation in which diverse communities can share and learn from the past, collectively address current challenges and plan for a better future for all.

Hi Baldwin,

This is just a slightly cleaned up version of the plan that you can share with the team confidentially. Let me know if they have any questions.

Separately, we will need a media plan for the event day which I will put together after the site visit tomorrow and in coordination with the Mayor's office re: the Mayor and media.

Thanks!

Subject: RE: Update on Apology event planning and next meeting March 28, 3-4:30 pm City hall 2nd floor Business Centre Board Room

Dear HDC members:

Thanks to everyone who attended the February 22nd meeting to discuss the Apology Events. For this email, we've included Mr. Hilbert Yu, Chair of CBA, as we met with him and his executives afterwards to provide them with an update on our discussion. They will be joining us at our next meeting. We'll also be inviting a few other groups who were not members of HDC.

One key outcome of this last meeting is that, based on your feedback, we've amended the original plan and will be combining the two separate apology events (one in Council and one at Chinese Cultural Centre, CCC) into one single special council session on April 22nd at the Chinese Cultural Centre for the official City apology (CCC David Lam Hall has a seating capacity of 500+ people). As seating is limited at City Hall, this council session at CCC will allow for maximum participation from the community.

On that day, we will also be planning outdoor activities around Chinatown to provide an opportunity to showcase the cultural vitality and activities of Chinatown. We are calling it the Chinatown Cultural Day.

Below is a summary of key discussion points and recommendations from our meeting:

1. HDC advisory members are invited to provide feedback to the preliminary planning of the events and a few other community groups will also be invited to join the planning group at the next meeting.
2. The draft plan to have two apology events (one on April 17 At Council and one at CCC on April 22) is amended in order to allow for maximum community participation. It was recommended that there will be one special council session convened on April 22 at CCC. This change will need to be approved by Mayor and Council. (Postscript: this is now approved)
3. Some discussion as to which Cantonese dialects to use in reading the Apology in Chinese. CBA recommends that Cantonese be used. After discussion, it is recommended that the apology statement be read in Cantonese and in Sze-Yup dialect.
4. Judge Bill Yee will be invited to read the Apology Statement as he speaks both Cantonese and Sze-Yup dialect.
5. Henry Yu and Will Tao, members of the original working group working on the apology statement, will review and finalize the apology statement (with actions added to the last section).
6. Community responses are needed following Council's apology. It was recommended that there will be three responses representing: perspectives of the early immigrants/descendants (could be veterans); contemporary society and issues represented by the Chinese Benevolent Association; and perspectives from the younger generation looking forward to the future.
7. The council proceeding will be bilingual and livestreamed. When the meeting adjourns, there can be short musical and dance performances. It is proposed that a large screen be set up outdoor (in Memorial Plaza) to allow for simultaneous broadcast of council proceeding for overflow audience.
8. City's corporate communications group will assist with preparing a communication plan including publicity through social media and other channels.
9. The City will send out notifications to groups to attend the council meeting. This needs to be done asap as many groups require one month notice.
10. Further discussion on community cultural activities for the day - tai chi groups, kung fu groups and lion dance groups at Andy Livingston Park, programming at CCC/SYS Courtyard. More details to come.
11. Vincent Kwan, E.D. of Dr. Sun Yet Sen Garden, has kindly agreed to coordinate volunteers.

A next meeting is proposed for next Wednesday, March 28 at City hall, 2nd floor, Business Centre Board Room. Main agenda items include: update on council meeting, Chinatown Cultural day, media outreach, volunteers recruitment and promoting community participation.

Please RSVP on your availability. Thanks and look forward to seeing you all soon!

Hi Kevin: sorry about my belated reply. Media requests usually go to the City's Corporate Communications first. The City released a press release last week, and I hope you got a copy: <http://vancouver.ca/news-calendar/city-council-to-convene-special-meeting-in-chinatown-to-deliver-official-apology.aspx>

Thanks for your interest in the HDC initiative and I'm fine with doing an interview. Let's schedule a time for interview.

You can also reach me directly on my cell: 604-817-3569.

Hi Baldwin,

Any update on the interview arrangement? I've sent you two emails on 13th and 25th of March requesting a phone interview with you about the City's apology initiative and I've been waiting for your confirmation since then.

Please inform me with your decision so I can work on my project. Thanks.

Hi Marlee: attached please find the latest list of activities provided by Joey. Still need info for SYS activities, and confirmation of Chinese Musical Ensemble from Wendy and Chinese Lantern Group from Renita. Activity no. 20-23 still need info from Joey.

We also confirmed that on Signage Tower Side 1, there will be info regarding all the activities of the day, starting with Andy Livingston park, then list of Activities Booths, then SYS Garden and Courtyard, the Special Council meeting, then Food Vendors (restaurants), so that the public will know what's happening throughout the day.

For SYS Garden, there are 2 activities: Tea Ceremony, and the video project launch of Paul Wong (details in attached draft press release by City).

For signage Side 4 for Overall Program Info, I've adapted the City press release for this purpose. The full press release is here: <http://vancouver.ca/news-calendar/city-council-to-convene-special-meeting-in-chinatown-to-deliver-official-apology.aspx>
I've made some edits in the press release and am copying it to Lauren for her review:

A Special City Council Meeting and Chinatown Cultural Day April 22, 2018

On April 22 Vancouver City Council will convene a Special Council meeting in Chinatown where Mayor Gregor Robertson will deliver a formal apology for past discrimination against residents of Chinese descent. The apology will acknowledge the wrongdoings of past legislation, regulations and policies of previous Vancouver City Councils.

The formal apology will be part of a larger Chinatown Culture Days event, which will take place between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. throughout Chinatown. The apology will take place at 2 p.m. at the Chinese Cultural Centre.

The apology will be read by Mayor Robertson and former City Councillors Bill Yee and Maggie Ip. There will also be three community speakers representing voices from the past, present and future; a war veteran, a representative from the Chinese Benevolent Association, and a young Vancouverite of Chinese descent.

Throughout the day on April 22, Chinatown will be transformed into a Chinese Culture Day event. The entire Vancouver community is invited to enjoy, learn and experience Chinese culture through a variety of activities including: historical walking tours, tai chi demonstrations, street food stalls, free admission to the Dr. Sun Yet Sen Garden and Chinese museum, and much more.

Between 2016 and 2017, the City established an Advisory Group of Chinese and non-Chinese experts and community leaders to help guide the development of a formal apology, which was approved by Council in November 2017.

The formal apology for past discrimination reaffirms Vancouver as a City of Reconciliation in which diverse communities can share and learn from the past, collectively address current challenges and plan for a better future for all

Past Meets Present at the Dr. Sun Yat-sen Classical Chinese Garden with Artist Paul Wong

On April 22, artist Paul Wong will launch a year-long residency, 身在唐人街/Occupying Chinatown, at the Dr. Sun Yat-sen Classical Chinese Garden to coincide with the City of Vancouver's formal apology for the historical discrimination against Chinese residents in Vancouver. Wong will be creating a series of multidisciplinary artworks based on 700 letters in Chinese sent by 90 writers to his mother Suk-Fong Wong from 1946 to 2016. The residency will include exhibitions, screenings, collaborations with other artists, workshops, performances, events, a website and a book.

The first featured work will be the screening of Wong's video, Ordinary Shadows, Chinese Shade (1988, 89 minutes, colour, in Chinese with English Subtitles) from April 14th - June 11th, 2018. Located in the Scholar's Study within the Garden and looped for continuous play, this film is Wong's exploration of his second-generation Chinese-Canadian perspective on the Chinese here in the new world, Canada, and in the motherland, China.

The video will be open to the public for free viewing during Chinatown Culture Day on April 22. Paul Wong will be available to discuss the concepts behind Occupying Chinatown at the Occupying Chinatown Studio at BC Artscape - 268 Keefer Street, Suite 427 from 3:30 pm to 5 pm.

Later this spring Wong will create a new neon work called 鹹水埗溫哥華/HAAM SUI FOW WUN GOH WAH. The neon sign will be mounted on the Garden's exterior southern wall, above the Moon Gate. This will demarcate and acknowledge Chinatown's Toisanese pioneers. In Cantonese, the sign reads as Saltwater City (鹹水埗/Haam Sui Fow) and Vancouver (溫哥華/Wun Goh Wah).

Occupying Chinatown is one of six new public art projects commissioned by the City of Vancouver through an invitation to artists to propose artworks for the city. A description of all six initiatives can be found at Artist-Initiated Commissions

Occupying Chinatown is commissioned by the City of Vancouver Public Art Program in partnership with the Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden. Paul Wong also wishes to thank the BC Arts Council for additional support.

City Council to convene special meeting in Chinatown to deliver official apology for historical discrimination against Chinese people

On Sunday, April 22 Vancouver City Council will convene a Special Council meeting in Chinatown where Mayor Gregor Robertson will deliver a formal apology for past discrimination against residents of Chinese descent. The apology will acknowledge the wrongdoings of past legislation, regulations and policies of previous Vancouver City Councils.

The formal apology will be part of a larger Chinatown Culture Days event, which will take place between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. throughout Chinatown. The apology will take place at 2 p.m. at the Chinese Cultural Centre.

QUOTE FROM MAYOR

The apology will be read in both English and Chinese. The English version will be read by Mayor Robertson, and the Chinese version by former City Councillors Bill Yee and Maggie Ip. There will also be three community speakers representing voices from the past, present and future; a war veteran who grew up in Vancouver; the President of the Chinese Benevolent Association which has been established for over a century to help Vancouver's Chinese population; and a young Vancouverite of Chinese descent speaking to her vision for a vibrant Chinese community.

Throughout the day on April 22, Chinatown will be transformed into a Chinese Culture Day event. The entire Vancouver community is invited to enjoy, learn and experience Chinese culture through a variety of activities including: historical walking tours, tai chi demonstrations, street food stalls, free admission to the Dr. Sun Yet Sen Garden and Chinese museum, and much more.

Between 2016 and 2017, the City established an Advisory Group of Chinese and non-Chinese experts and community leaders to help guide the development of a formal apology, which was approved by Council in November 2017. The Advisory Group is comprised of retired judges, former City Councillors, community elders and advocates, historians, veterans and their descendants, who are active volunteers that share an interest in working with the City to move forward together. Professor Henry Yu, member of the Advisory, commented: " This apology is not about looking backwards, but about learning about the past to create a better future together for everybody."

The formal apology for past discrimination reaffirms Vancouver as a City of Reconciliation in which diverse communities can share and learn from the past, collectively address current challenges and plan for a better future for all.

Media availability: Baldwin Wong, Social Planner, will be available for interviews at 1:30 p.m. in English and Chinese at City Hall, Main Floor Town Hall

Hello Your Worship

The apology that you gave to the Chinese community today, on behalf of the City of Vancouver has a very special significance for me.

My maternal grandmother was born in Vancouver in 1897. Both my father and mother were born in Vancouver in the 1920's. My father volunteered and served in the Canadian Army during World War II even though he wasn't recognized as a voting citizen and couldn't swim in public pools. My mother was one of, if not the first, Asian women to graduate from UBC with a Bachelor of Applied Science in Nursing in 1947. After graduating, she was hired by the City of Vancouver and was a community health nurse for over 35 years. She worked at various schools throughout the city but always had the Downtown Eastside as her "beat".

The discrimination my parents faced from both their government and the various communities they navigated through, was just a fact of life. They were rejected by both the White society and by the immigrant Chinese because they were born here and had to learn Cantonese as young children. The immigrant Chinese referred to them as Siwashy - a derogatory reference to aboriginals.

With all the suffering throughout their lives because of their ethnicity, I know how especially proud they would be to know that their grandson and son had served on the Vancouver Police Board with you. So thank you for taking this huge step in helping heal generations of systemic discrimination and isolation. History will be kind to you Gregor for your service to the city and its citizens. Today is another example of how principled politicians should act.

I wish you nothing but the best and hope you know that you have made a difference for generations to come.

Thanks,
Glenn

Hi both,

I have two quick questions for you:

1. We notoriously get media requests about the cost of clean up after big public events – does your team handle all the clean up after this event and/or do City crews come in and clean as well?
2. We are juggling a small piece of media equipment and wondering if someone can drop it off to the cultural centre around 8/9 am on Sunday morning, will your team be there by then? It's just a mic stand for the media scrum.

Thanks,
Lauren

Subject: Volunteer Responsibilities
Attachments: 20180414124019329_0001.pdf

Hi all,

The volunteer orientation went well today. We have a lot of young keen students involved for this event. One thing my colleagues notice when they were doing the signup was that some volunteers asked us to confirm for safety requirements (I am attaching an example of that). I know that the CoV staff team are doing some massively good job in cleaning the areas and continue to ensure the cleanliness of the area before the event.

I know that one of the possible tasks for volunteers is waste management. However, I am still slightly uneasy about assigning student volunteers specifically to pickup garbage on that day. For one, I feel that waste management should be a dedicated responsibility for people with the appropriate gears, equipment and training.

I know that Renita and the team will be confirming responsibility for individual volunteers very soon. I hope to get your thoughts on this.

Best Regards,
Vincent

Vincent, Kwan, Executive Director
Dr. Sun Yat Sen Garden

Dear Vincent:

Thank you for agreeing to act as the overall coordinator bringing together community groups & volunteers to assist with the Apology event and the Chinatown Cultural Day. At our last meeting all community groups agreed that we only have a very short time frame to put together a big event with many program activities, we will need to bring on an experienced production company to assist, especially with logistics and hardware.

If you can coordinate the community participation and contributions I will talk to City Manager to request a budget for this event. Sun Yat Sen Garden has lots of experience delivering large scale event, it will be great if you can move forward fast in identifying a production company and bring them on board. Once I can confirm a budget for the event the City will contribute towards financial resources to the SYS Garden for the event expenses. We can review and discuss an appropriate budget together.

I really appreciate you stepping up to assist in hosting this significant day.

Sincerely,

DRAFT Communications Plan HDC Apology and Chinatown Culture Days

Spokespeople: Baldwin Wong, Mary Clare Zak
Program Area Lead: Baldwin Wong

OVERVIEW

In November 2017, Vancouver City Council approved a number of recommendations set forward by City Staff, based on extensive research, public consultation, and input from an Advisory Group. The formal apology will be presented at the Chinatown Cultural Centre on April 22 and will be followed by a Culture Day which will see (insert details of event).

Hi Baldwin,

We need to have a conversation on an overall plan for promotion including when we are going to announce that this is happening, I don't think the best way to do that is to just add it to our website. Unfortunately I don't have capacity to do that until Friday afternoon at the earliest so if you can standby until then I can get a list of things together that we can work through.

As I mentioned before, will need support from your team on helping with web copy, other copy for printed materials, etc. since the comms support for Community Services is incredibly limited right now.

Thank you!

Hi Lauren: we need to update the HDC website. www.vancouver.ca/historical-discrimination

I forgot who was our contact at IT when we developed the site. Can you let us know who to contact?

There is some urgency in this as we need to put in new info before March 23rd as the DTES/Chinatown Planning Group wants us to include some info on Apology event before their street pop-up event next week.

Much thanks!

Hi all,

Please see attached for a revised communications plan and a draft news release.

I would like to get this news release out as soon as possible and am proposing Wednesday of this week. If Baldwin is available, we could invite media to City Hall to ask questions about the news release after we have distributed it. I can work with Baldwin on this. It would be a 'media scrum' not a 'media briefing' as, from what I understand, many of the details are still coming together.

A few action items needed to move forward:

- Baldwin – please send the details on Chinese Culture Days as you suggested last week
- Baldwin – please also share the details on the community speakers as part of the apology
- Baldwin – introduce Lauren to Brand Live contact for sorting out media details on the day
- Baldwin – confirm availability on Wednesday afternoon for a quick media availability after the news release goes out

Thank you and looking forward to feedback on the plan and news release as soon as possible!

Hi Lauren: I've made some suggestions in the attached. Use what you think is appropriate. I think we should make a link to council report in the second last paragraph (where I make a reference to council approving the formal apology through the Advisory). I recommend to include council approval as the basis for convening this meeting.

As to how best to frame Chinatown Cultural Day, it does not follow council meeting as it's happening between 1-4 pm on that day, and part of the program is for the public to view special council meeting from an outdoor large screen. Council meeting is from 2- 3:30 pm indoor at the Chinese Cultural Centre. You already mentioned the purpose – showcase Chinese culture. I can be reached on cell 604-817-3569 if you want to discuss further.

Much thanks

Hi Baldwin,

I know you're busy, but I really need your feedback on the news release for the apology and event. In order to send this out tomorrow, I will need your input by 1 p.m. today. We cannot send this on Thursday before the long weekend, so if it doesn't go out tomorrow we're into next week, which isn't ideal as I know there are media asking about this.

You'll also see there are some FAQs in the communications plan that we will need answered before the news release goes out – the most important being, how much will this event cost?

Please call me if easier,

Hey Wendy,

Fred Kwok suggested I talk to you about performing at the Chinese Cultural Event on the 22nd. I've been a staple in Chinatown for the past year performing solely in Chinatown. My roots are deep in Chinatown as my father was a member of the Chinese Hillbillies Band and owned the Jack Chow building in the early 50's.

My roots are deep in Chinatown as my father was a member of the Chinese Hillbillies Band and owned the Jack Chow building in the early 50's.

Just some more background of what I've been doing.

I've been doing my shows soley in Chinatown and have built a reputation as the band to come see in Chinatown.

1. I've done 2 shows At the Dr.Sun Yat Sen Garden. The second show I brought in Chinese Opera actors to walk around and pose with people in the park.

2. I've put on one eve show at LanaLou's in Chinatown. I brought in mahjong tables for people to learn and play. It was a hit

Having said all that, I would love to perform on that very special day and honour my father and roots here in Chinatown. I was compelled to also write a song called "Chinatown" dedicated to Vancouver's Chinatown.

Here is a sample

Please let me know your thoughts and I am open to any ideas you might have.

Have a great weekend!

Hey Wendy,

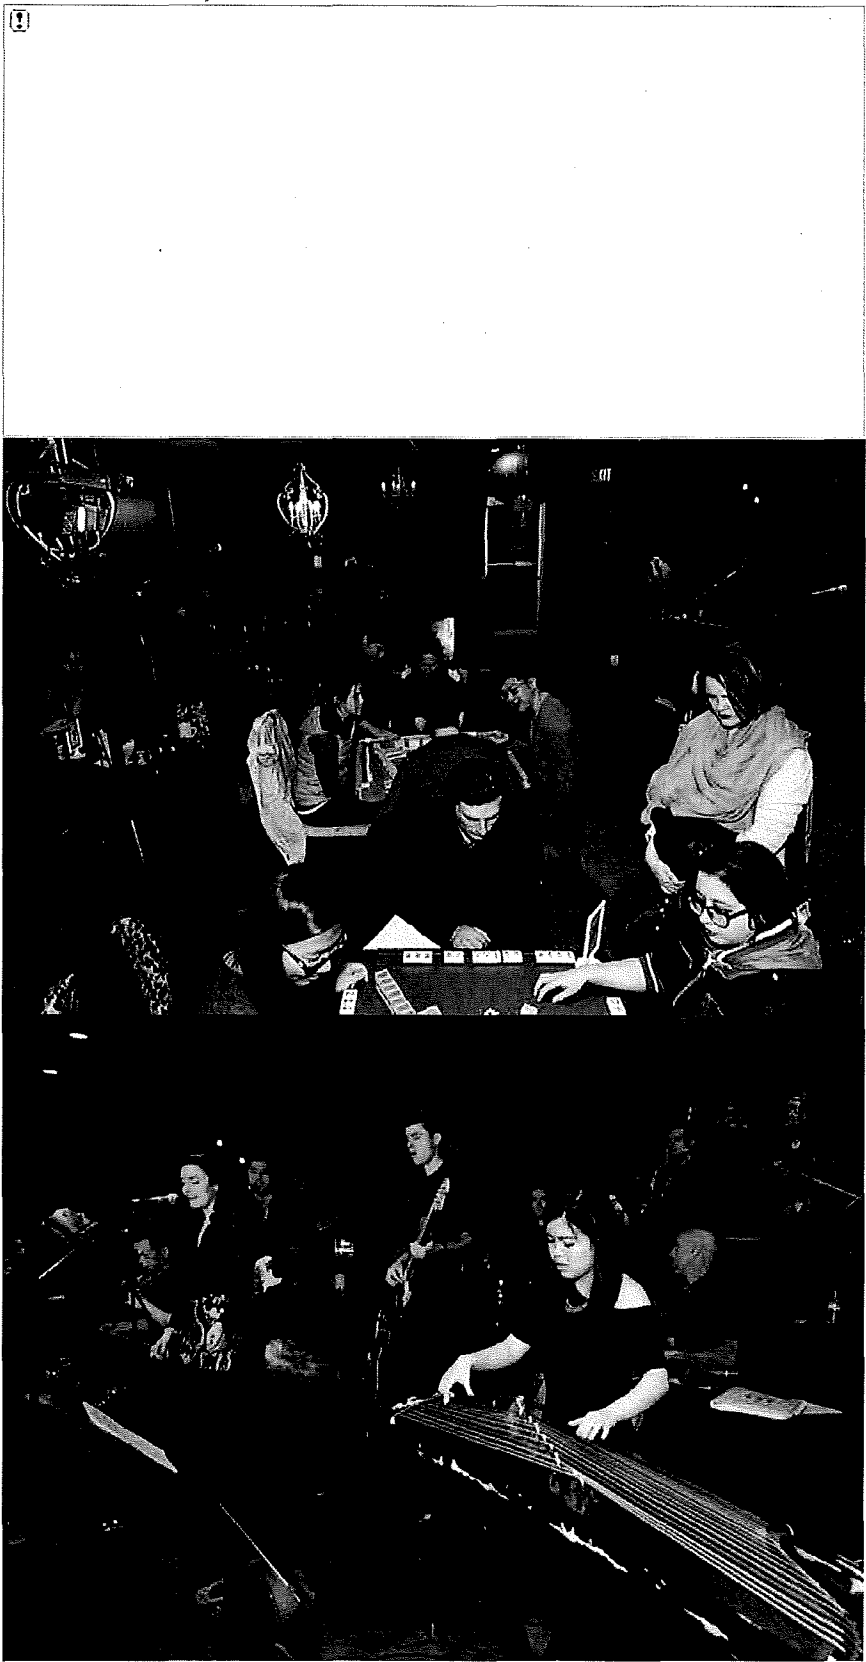

Thanks for getting back to me. To answer your questions....

1. There would be at least 5 of us playing acoustic instruments. 2 guitars, cajon, erhu, guzheng, singer.
2. We would be performing our own original material (in English) that fuses western and eastern music. All of our songs are family friendly and easy to listen to.
3. Given my family's history in Chinatown, it would be our absolute honour to perform at this event voluntarily. Having said that, if you want to give us an honorarium of your choosing, we would love that too.
4. All we would need is 5 mics and a multi channel PA system available. If you don't have that then we could rent it and that would be the only cost to you.

Here's a link to our latest ep called "Dragons in the Sky" which is a short story about a day I had in Chinatown. We would be performing a stripped down acoustic version of these songs.

<https://sonofjames.bandcamp.com/album/dragons-in-the-sky>

Also, it doesn't look like these photos went through but here are some photos from our show in Chinatown the last year.

It would mean the world to us if we could be a part of this day and I hope we can make this happen.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks,
