Projects (New)

Vancouver Park Board Track and Field Strategy – The Vancouver Park Board is working with the Vancouver School Board to plan for the future of track and field sports and facilities in the city. The new strategy will create a vision for track and field sports, including exploring opportunities for renewal, expansion, and maintaining track and field facilities. This is Phase 3 of the engagement, where the project team will be developing final recommendations from the completed research, technical studies, incorporated feedback from round two of engagement. Park Board also worked with staff and stakeholder advisory groups to develop draft recommendations, concept plans, and a draft survey to bring back to the public.

- Online Talk Vancouver Survey – May 8
- Track and Field Strategy Pop-Up Event
 - Friday, May 10 from 9 – 3pm at UBC (Rashpal Dhillon Track and Field Oval, 2329 Wesbrook Mall)
 - Thursday, May 23 from 9 – 11am at the Killarney Running Track (6205 Kerr Street), with the Killarney Seniors and new immigrant walking club
 - Wednesday, May 29 from 3 – 7pm at the Point Grey Secondary (5350 East Boulevard), Cafeteria

Vancouver Music Strategy – The Vancouver Music Strategy embraces our city's vibrant music scene and aims to support music and musicians working and living here. To develop the strategy, Cultural Services is assessing Vancouver's music ecology by determining its social and economic impact, and identifying gaps in the music sector. The strategy will be used to increase integration and awareness for the music industry.

The City of Vancouver invites you to a free, public conversation series to learn more about the Vancouver Music Strategy and help shape the future of music in Vancouver. Questions that will be considered include: How can we make the city a vibrant home for music? What role can we play in supporting artists, creators, fans, audiences, and communities? What challenges and barriers exist to having music thrive across the city?

Attendance is open to general public. Sessions will consist of a short presentation of Music Strategy, town hall-style facilitated group conversation, with possible breakout conversation sessions. This will provide an opportunity for musicians, creators, community, and the general public to speak about the kinds of futures that we'd like to create together through music.

- Community Conversation (RSVP here)
 - Tuesday, May 28 from 6 – 9pm at Matchstick Coffee Chinatown (213 East Georgia Street)
 - Tuesday, June 25 from 6 – 9pm at Matchstick Coffee Fraser (639 East 15th Street)

Blood Alley Redesign – The City of Vancouver is sharing the developed and refined a preferred concept for the Blood Alley Square. With the feedback on the preferred concept, it will inform and help finalize the design. Guided by the DTES Community Plan and Social Impact Objectives, the goal of the redesign is to: repair and upgrade, while respecting and retaining its much-cherished heritage character and creating a space that is inclusive and welcoming to all.

- Public Event
 - Wednesday, May 15 from 4 – 7pm at Woodward's Atrium (333 Abbott Street)
- Online Talk Vancouver Survey – May 15 to June 16, 2019

Creative City Strategy - The Creative City Strategy open house will offer the public an opportunity to review the draft of proposed Creative City Strategy recommendations to improve the City of Vancouver's support for arts, culture, and creativity.

Join us at the Creative City Open House to explore the proposed priorities and actions that will guide the City's efforts and investments in support of a dynamic arts and culture sector. We'll share what we've heard from the diverse arts and culture community over the past 18+ months and ask for your feedback to help draft the framework of the Creative City Strategy, which we will present to City Council later this year.

Open house participants will explore the proposed priorities and actions that will guide our efforts and investments in support of Vancouver’s dynamic cultural ecology.

Attend one of three scheduled 30 minute presentations on the Creative City Strategy’s Action Plan, and discussion on priority actions. Share your feedback on the draft of the proposed strategic framework and actions.

- Open House – Thursday, May 16 from 10-7:30pm at CityLab (511 West Broadway)
- Presentation times are at
 - 10am – 10:30am
 - 2pm – 2:30pm
 - 6pm – 6:30pm
