Subject: Upcoming Information Bulletin – Noise Control Bylaw Review Engagement Launch (May 10, 2023)

Dear Mayor and Council,

I am writing to inform you that the City will be issuing the information bulletin below today regarding the engagement launch for the Noise Control Bylaw review. Please keep this information bulletin embargoed until it goes live from the City media email account this morning.

The online survey will run until May 30 and is open to anyone who lives, works or operates a business in Vancouver. Feedback received will help identify area of focus for staff and shape future revisions to the by-law. Results will be included in an update to you from staff later this year.

Best,
Paul

Tell us your thoughts about Noise in Vancouver

The City of Vancouver is undertaking an extensive review to modernize and enhance the Noise Control By-law. As a part of the first phase of this multi-year project the City is seeking input from everyone who lives, works or operates a business in Vancouver.

The City is asking people to share what they think about the City's approach to regulating noise in Vancouver and identify areas that could be improved. The online survey should take around 10-15 minutes to complete.

The City supports protecting the public's right to enjoy public spaces without unreasonable noise nuisances, while also supporting economic and cultural activity and growth. Feedback received will help identify area of focus for staff and shape future revisions to the by-law. Results will be included in an update to Council later this year.

Get involved

Visit the Shape Your City page to learn more about the Noise Control By-law review and to complete the online survey, which is open until May 30. Auto-translations are available at the top of the page.
