Introduction

The Operations Management Plan for Sarah Ross House located at 4410 Kaslo Street in Vancouver provides an overview of Atira Property Management Inc.'s (Atira) commitment to operating a supportive housing program for people living in a shared living environment. It is our intent to operate Sarah Ross House in a manner that manages any and all impacts of the program on neighbouring residents and business, as well as ensures the safety and security of the people who live there. This Operations Management Plan outlines the basic housing objectives and operating parameters for the Sarah Ross House program and incorporates protocols to manage various concerns, which may be raised by tenants, neighbours and business owners, as well as ensuring an adequate and timely response on the part of Atira staff. This is the beginning of a new partnership with the Renfrew Heights community and we look forward to working together to best respond to tenant, neighbourhood and community needs.

Sarah Ross House is named in honour of an early resident of the Collingwood neighbourhood. Sarah was the daughter of Persoons and the granddaughter of Synsetia, of the Neskonlith Indian Band. She left Kamloops with the youngest four of her 13 children, to escape racism, according to her letters and diaries. She joined her sister Amy (Howard) Smith, moving into her home at 3512 Vanness Avenue in the mid-20s and lived there until her death in the late 50s. Her children and grandchildren lived with or next door to her until her death, scattering across East Vancouver in the late 50s, including to Moss Street, 22nd Avenue and Renfrew Street, across from the community centre, and Killarney. The house on Moss Street remains in the family, where Sarah's great granddaughter still lives.

1. Overview

Who We Are

Atira Property Management Inc. is a wholly-owned for profit subsidiary of Atira Women’s Resource Society, which was incorporated under the Society Act of British Columbia on March 10th, 1983 and registered with Revenue Canada as a charitable organization in 1984. In 1987, the Society opened its first transition house, Durrant House, in the South Surrey/White Rock community. The Society began expanding its services in 1993 and today, together with Atira Property Management Inc., operates more than 40 housing programs, two community daycares and multiple non-residential support programs located across the Lower Mainland.

Our Mission

- Atira Women's Resource Society is dedicated to supporting women and children affected by violence by offering safe and supportive housing and by delivering education and advocacy aimed at ending all forms of gendered violence

Our Vision

- A world free of inequalities, where everyone's human rights are respected and where women and girls have the right to participate fully and effectively in all of the decisions that affect their lives.

Our Values

- Inclusive Feminism: Our work is informed by our understanding that women's experience of oppressive institutions (sexism, racism, colonialism, classism, heterosexism, ableism, transphobia, xenophobia and other identity markers) are interconnected and cannot be examined separately from one another.
- Women-Centred: Our work is informed by our understanding that in addition to providing safety and respect, all of our programs must invite and encourage women's collaboration and that women must have the opportunity to be active participants in all of our services.
- Harm Reduction: Our work is informed by our understanding that women's experiences of gender-based violence is central to their use of substances and that understanding the intersections between women's experience of violence, poverty, racism, gendered patterns of drug use/harms, and lack of support for mothering, are critical to developing programs that are seamless and which increase opportunities for women to keep themselves and their children safe.
- Innovation: Our work is informed by our understanding that the women who access our services and our staff are our greatest asset and so we encourage individuality, creativity, leadership, transparency and accountability

Historically, Atira has provided low-no barrier housing and related support programs to women who are marginalized by their experiences for violence/abuse, struggles with homelessness, poverty, substance use and mental wellness. Atira offers a Stopping the Violence Counselling program; a support program for children who have witnessed abuse, a parenting program, a legal advocacy program; a 16-Step addictions recovery program; Enterprising Women Making Art (an alternative employment program for women with significant barriers to employment); The Painter Sisters (an employment training program); housing outreach programs and outreach programs for women who are older and for First Nations, Metis and Inuit women; housing, services for women who are criminalized, trauma-informed daycares, bee-keeping programs, community gardens and a women-only overdose prevention site, to name a few. Atira also manages 20, women-only housing programs. More information about Atira's programs and services is available at our website at www.atira.bc.ca.

Together with Atira Property Management Inc., Atira also operates 30 co-ed housing programs across the Lower Mainland including seniors housing, family housing, housing cooperatives, strata corporations and private-sector rental housing. Relationship-Based Care Principles

- Informed caring is knowledge and skills;
- Everyone has a valuable contribution to make;
- Relationships between program participants, their support networks/families and staff are at the heart of service delivery;
- Knowledge of self and self-care are fundamental requirements for quality care and healthy interpersonal relationships;
- Healthy work relationships and environments result in high program participant and staff satisfaction;
- People are most satisfied when their roles and daily work practices are in alignment with their personal and professional values;
- Empowerment and ownership of work and practice are essential elements of Relationship-Based Care;
- Transformational change happens one relationship at a time.

Sarah Ross House will house women and men who are marginalized by their experiences of homelessness, poverty, struggles with substance use, struggles with mental wellness and with chronic health issues. Sarah Ross House will also contribute to a healthier neighbourhood by enhancing the quality of tenant's' lives and supporting them to more fully participate in their community, which will include an invitation for neighbours and neighbourhood residents, faith groups, schools, businesses, other groups and organizations to become involved in service delivery.

Safety, Security and Nuisances

Any situation that affects the safety and security of tenants, staff or a member of the community will be dealt with immediately, following the protocols set out in the “Safety and Security” section of this document. The procedures below will be followed to address community concerns:

1. When a complaint comes in, the appropriate staff will acknowledge the question or concern with a rapid response.
2. In cases where staff cannot respond to the question or concern to the satisfaction of the complainant, the issue will be brought to Atira senior staff to address. Senior staff will contact the complainant within seven days of being notified of such a complaint.
3. In most cases, Sarah Ross House staff should be able to resolve the issue to the satisfaction of the complainant. Where the issue is not resolved satisfactorily, the individual has the option of launching a complaint, following Atira Complaints Resolution process, which is available on our website and outlined below.
4. All complaints or incidents will be logged and regardless of the severity of the complaint or whether it has been resolved, this information will be shared with the Community Advisory Committee at the next advisory committee meeting, where a community advisory committee exists.

Complaints Resolution Process

In addition to the preceding protocols to address issues regarding safety, security and nuisances, occasionally, there may be other types of concerns that arise from members of the community. See Error! Not a valid bookmark self-reference..

8. Appendix 1

Complaint Resolution Process

Atira understands concerns may arise about how we conduct ourselves with respect to our programs and services. We trust this complaint resolution process allows you the opportunity to be heard and allows our staff the opportunity to best hear your concerns. Our intention is to always act in the best interests of ALL of the people we serve. We understand you have the right to raise your concerns and that we have a responsibility to carefully consider your concerns and to respond.

Some examples of concerns that could arise include the following:

- You believe you are being harassed, discriminated against or threatened;
- You believe you are not being treated with respect and dignity;
- You believe you are being treated unfairly;
- You believe you are being excluded from planning/decision-making about you or your child(ren);
- You believe staff are being unclear in stating expectations of program participants/tenants;
- You believe staff or programs are not living up to Atira's stated mandates and/or commitments;
- You are dissatisfied with Atira's services at any level.

All concerns and/or complaints will be dealt with fairly, promptly and where appropriate, in confidence. A resolution means ALL parties involved in the complaint are heard and fully involved in the process. If the resolution is not what you were hoping for, it does not mean there was no resolution. Whatever the outcome of a complaint, our priority is to reach a resolution that benefits ALL of the people Atira serves and one that honours Atira's mission and mandate. It is also Atira's priority to ensure all resolutions, solutions and decisions are properly explained to and understood by everyone involved.

Step One, Informal Review:

You are always encouraged to resolve your complaint informally and directly with the person you have concerns about or whose behaviour caused your concern. In most cases, this is the fastest and easiest way to work things out. If you are unable to resolve your complaint informally or directly or if you feel uncomfortable doing so, you may choose to go to Step Two of the Informal Review by speaking with the Program Manager.

Step Two, Informal Review:

The manager of the program is closest to the situation and so in most cases is best able to find a quick and satisfactory resolution. As she will want to find the facts of the complaint, she may need to ask others for their input. The results of her review will be shared with you in a meeting. If you are unable to resolve your complaint by speaking with the program manager or if you feel uncomfortable doing so, you may request a Formal Review.

Step Three, Formal Review:

A Complaint Resolution Committee will be formed to review your complaint. The Committee will include two managers from programs other than the one where your complaint arose as well as a woman from Atira's administrative team. The Committee will be made up of people who have had no involvement in any matters related to your complaint. The Complaint Resolution Committee will work to find the best solution for everyone involved, which may include speaking with all parties. They may also request a meeting, giving everyone an opportunity to come together to find a resolution. Whichever process they adopt, they will speak with you to provide an explanation of both the process and resolution and you will receive a letter documenting their process, resolution, follow up as applicable and reasons for all of their decisions and actions.

To start a Formal Review, you can ask the program manager to assist you, email your request to complaints@atira.bc.ca, which goes directly to the administrative office, or write a letter to: Complaints Resolution Committee, Atira Women's Resource Society, 201, 190 Alexander Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6A 1B5

Step Four, Formal Review:

If you feel your complaint was not resolved by the Complaints Resolution Committee and it is of a serious nature, you may request your complaint and the resolution adopted at Step Three be forwarded to the Executive Director, Operations for an Administrative Review. You may or may not be granted an Administrative review; it is the decision of the Executive Director, Operations after speaking with you, the Complaints Resolution Committee and reviewing the documentation. Only very serious issues will reach this step. If your request for an Administrative Review is denied, you will receive a letter informing you of the decision and reasons. If the Executive Director, Operations reviews your complaint, you will receive the results of her review and the resolution in writing.

To request a Step Four, Administrative Review, you can ask the Complaints Resolution Committee or the Program Manager to assist you, you can email your request to complaints@atira.bc.ca or write a letter to: Executive Director, Operations, Atira Women's Resource Society, 201, 190 Alexander Street, Vancouver, B.C. V6A 1B5

Step Five, Formal Review:

If you have been through Step Four and have met with the Executive Director, Operations or received a letter denying an Administrative Review and you still feel your complaint did not receive proper consideration, you may request in writing to have your complaint forwarded for a CEO review. The CEO will review the documentation from all steps of the process and may request a telephone or in-person meeting with you. You may or may not be granted a CEO Review; depending on the seriousness of your complaint and the thoroughness of the complaints resolution process leading up to your request for a CEO Review. It is the decision of the CEO whether your complaint will be considered for review. If your request for a CEO Review is denied, you will receive a letter informing you of her decision and reasons. If the CEO reviews your complaint, you will receive the results of her review and the resolution in writing.

To request a CEO Review, you can ask the Executive Director, Operations or the Program Manager to assist you, you can email your request to complaints@atira.bc.ca, which goes directly to the administrative office, or you can write a letter to: CEO, Atira Women's Resource Society, 201, 190 Alexander Street, Vancouver, B.C.
