3. Presentation – Rental Incentives Review 6:30 – 7:15 pm

The City is reviewing its market rental incentive programs (including Rental 100 and the Affordable Housing Choices Interim Rezoning Policy). The review is being completed in two phases and will explore the effectiveness of our programs in delivering new housing to meet the needs of current and future renters. Phase 1 of the review was reported to Council in July 2019 and examined the performance of the City’s rental incentive programs over the last decade. Phase 2 of the review is currently underway. As staff explore ideas to improve our current rental incentive policies, we are engaging with the public and key stakeholders on potential policy changes. More information can be found at Vancouver.ca/rentalhousing.
